Founded in 1994, SILC Business School is a cooperative educational institution owned by Shanghai University (SHU) in China and University of Technology Sydney (UTS) in Australia. SILC is now one of the leading business schools in Shanghai as well as in China. By bringing together the best of SHU and UTS, integrating high-quality educational resources from abroad, and adhering to strict quality assurance measures, SILC is the beacon of the cooperative educational institutions in China.

SILC welcomes more than 400 international students every year, who make up about 10% of the total student population. Conversely, SILC sends over 100 students to overseas universities for short-term and long-term study programs. SILC has signed exchange agreements with more than 50 universities, most of which are located in Europe. Students not only study business courses at SILC, with instructional language being English, but can also study basic Chinese courses provided by SILC.

In February 2020, SILC received the AACSB accreditation, placing it among the top tier of business schools globally. In the 2025 Eduniversal "World's Best Business Schools" rankings, SILC has been awarded one more leaf to become a Four-Palm business school, ranking 10th overall in Mainland China, moving up fifteen places from 2024.

My time at SILC has been a journey of remarkable growth and discovery. I will always cherish the vibrant campus atmosphere, the diverse activities that enriched my student life, and the inspiring interactions with both faculty and peers.

I wish to express my profound gratitude to my thesis supervisor, Dr. Lin Wensheng, for his invaluable guidance; to Dr. Robert Chen for his steadfast mentorship of my entrepreneurial pursuits; and to the SILC International Office and Postgraduate Office staffs—for their unwavering support. My sincere thanks also go to the many Chinese classmates who generously shared their culture and friendship. To future students: have faith in your abilities. No matter the challenges, perseverance will see you through. If I could succeed, so can you!
